That's a good question! I think it's hard to say if children love animals more than old people. Children often show their love for animals in a very open and excited way. They are curious and want to play with animals all the time. However, old people might show their love in a different, deeper way. So, both groups love animals, but maybe they show it differently. It's not about who loves more, but how they love.
